

CONTENTS

PART 1 SITE EVALUATION: PROBLEMS AND PERSPECTIVES

Chapter 1	Introduction2
	The Language And Logic of Site Evaluation
	How This Book Can Benefit You
	Ten Easy Ways to Build a Bad Location
Chapter 2	Defining Site Evaluation8
	Site Evaluation and Sales Forecasting
	The Relativity of Site Evaluation
	Convenience and Destination Concepts
Chapter 3	Principles and Perspectives14
	Four Perspectives on Site Evaluation
	Basic Principles
Chapter 4	Knowing Your Customers22
	Customer Sources
	Linkages
	Day Parts
	Frequent and Infrequent Users
Chapter 5	Demand31

PART 2 CUSTOMER SOURCES

Chapter 6	Residential Sources36
	The Convenience Zone
	The Residential Zone
	The Destination Zone
	Demographic Reports
	Using a Demographic Report
Chapter 7	Daytime Population52
	Employees
	Shoppers

Entertainment Seekers
Other Retail Linkages

Chapter 8	Transients58
	Commuters
	Travelers
	Tourists

PART 3 IMAGE

Chapter 9	Drop-In Features64
	Visibility
	Prototype
	Access
	Traffic
	Strategic Position
Chapter 10	The Physical Environment74
	Type of Neighborhood
	Quality of Surroundings
	Retail Balance
	Gridlock
	Edge Locations

PART 4 MARKET CONDITIONS

Chapter 11:	The Market80
	Growth Strategy
	Regional Awareness
	Market Penetration
	Market Fit
	Prototype

Chapter 12: Competition	87
Understanding the Dynamics of Competition
Direct Competition
Indirect Competition
Distinguishing Between Direct Versus Indirect Competition
Cannibalism
Business Clusters
Evaluating Competition: Finding the Balance
When There is No Competition

PART 5 THE SITE EVALUATION

Chapter 13: The Site Evaluation: A Step-By-Step Guide	102
Step A: The Question of Subjectivity
Step B: Before the Evaluation
Step C: Drive the Trade Area
Step D: Study the Demographics
Chapter 14: Using the Site Evaluation Model: A Step-By-Step Guide ...	113
Step E: Entering Data in the Model Worksheet
Step F: Applying Appropriate Weights
Step G: Evaluating Your Site: Trade Offs and Negotiations
Chapter 15: Practical Advice From the Field	142
Key Points for Convenience Businesses in General
Key Points for Destination Businesses in-General
The First Location in the Market for a Destination Concept
Adding the Second Store in a Market
Backfilling in a Saturated Market
Entering a Market With No Competition
Entering a Market With Heavy Competition
Chapter 16: A Final Word	149